

Leeds & Yorkshire Lawyer

The official publication of Leeds Law Society

Leeds & Yorkshire Lawyer has been keeping the local legal community fully informed since 1991. The official journal of Leeds Law Society recently celebrated publishing its 100th issue and continues to go from strength to strength. Written by experts for experts, each issue combines topical features with an essential news round-up. Leeds & Yorkshire Lawyer is published on a monthly basis by Barker Brooks Media.

From publishing and design services to marketing and event management, their experienced creative teams enjoy the challenge of producing the highest standard of work. They also have a strong and well-connected sales and sponsorship department, who raise revenue to support their clients and many of their own projects.
